As a service to the West Virginia State University (WVSU) community, the University Relations team has developed this Brand and Graphic Identity Manual to help campus communicators adopt a graphics and writing style that is consistent and appropriate for University use.

Every WVSU publication has one thing in common, no matter where it originates, it can perform more effectively to all audiences if it has a clear and consistent message.

This manual is a guide for all University members in understanding and creating a consistent, unified look for WVSU. The grammar section, while not comprehensive, is intended to address common issues. Most of the rules are based on the Associated Press Style Manual, while a few have evolved for specific use at WVSU.

The University Relations team looks forward to working with the University community as we continue to define and strengthen the West Virginia State University brand.

Approved Color Usage

Approved color usage for the institutional logo allows for several options in print production. The logo should always appear in one of the color configurations shown here, using the approved colors.

When the background color is dark, the reversed version should be used. In case you need to place the logo over a photo, it must appear on a simple background that does not distract from the logo. One-color version is only available in black or white, the logo cannot be in solid gold as shown below.

NOTE: Boxes shown represent backgrounds and are not part of the official logo.

Prohibited Usage

Do not add elements or combine with other graphics

Do not add any effect

Do not distort or change the proportion/size of graphic components

Do not use a pixelated (low resolution) logo

Do not alter colors

Do not recreate a different graphic identity or signage using a component of the logo

The University logo with sub-branding components

When branding, it is important to maintain a consistent look. To create varying identities is counterproductive to our objectives and confusing for the public.

Academic colleges, schools and administrative offices are not allowed to have their individual “branding (logo)” in lieu of, or in addition to, the University logo.

Rather, each group is represented with placement of its name in a specified body of type beneath the institutional logo as shown at left.

College or administrative office specific sub-branded University logo must be created and approved by University Relations. For additional information, contact the team at (304) 766-3029 or (304) 204-4034.

WVSU Foundation & R&D Corp. Logos

WVSU Foundation and WVSU Research & Development Corporation have their own brand identities based on the institutional logo. They are the only two entities on campus allowed to have such unique brand identities.

Secondary Logo

The WVSU initials are used as a secondary identifier for the University. The letters use the same typeface as the institutional logo. The graphic and the color combination can be produced in the same way as the primary logo.

This version is designed to be used when nothing more complex will work effectively—as on small promotional items.

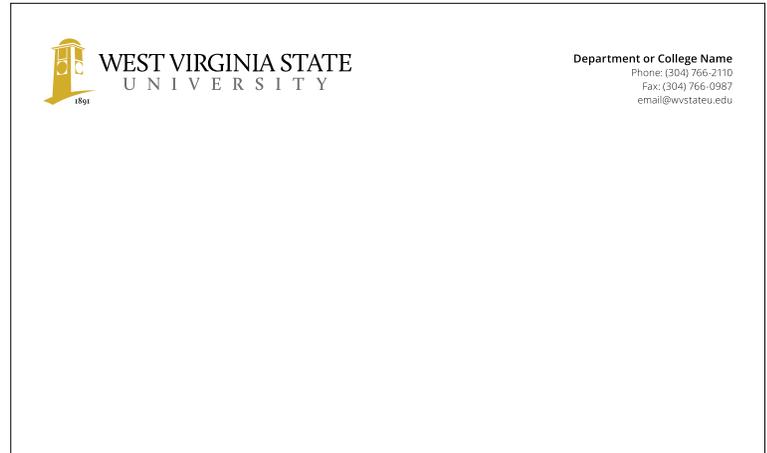

Otherwise, the WVSU initials should not be used in typical print and electronic applications, as it conveys, by definition, an abbreviated and more casual image of the University. Use of the secondary logo requires prior approval from University Relations.

Stationery

Examples of approved WVSU letterhead, envelopes and business cards are shown as they should be used by all colleges, administrative offices and departments within the institution.

Stationery should be printed at WVSU Printing Services. Unauthorized reproduction and duplication of the letterhead, envelope and business card are prohibited. If you have questions, contact WVSU Printing Services at (304) 766-3125 or University Relations at (304) 766-3029.

The University Seal

The official University seal has limited use. The seal adds authority and authenticity to important documents, including diplomas.

It is used primarily on official University documents such as transcripts, major report and research covers, diplomas, contracts, formal invitations and engraved notecards. It may also appear on selected clothing and gift items upon proper licensing. The seal should never be used in less formal applications.

The seal must be used in one color scheme, WVSU gold, black or white (on dark background color).

For further information, or for approval to use the seal on other materials, contact University Relations at (304) 766-3029.

OFFICIAL USE ONLY

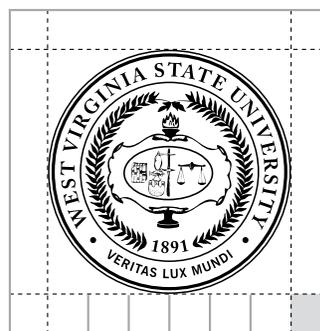

The symbols in the seal have these meanings:

Books: The quest for knowledge

Chemical retort: Research; furthering study

The justice scales: Impartiality

Veritas Lux Mundi: Latin for "Truth, the Light of the World."

Clear Zone

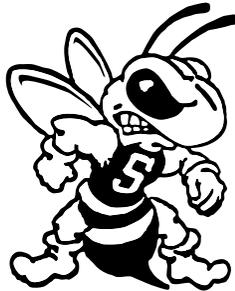

Clear space requirements must be observed, except in special, pre-approved circumstances

 = 1/6 X

X= diameter of the seal

Athletic Logo

The West Virginia State University primary athletic logos are the preferred marks to represent WVSU athletics. They are not, however, intended to represent any department or program area not directly associated with athletics. It is highly preferred that the full-color logo be used whenever possible. If the full-color version is not possible, then it is preferred that the logo be reproduced in the black versions shown. (It can be in all-white on dark background colors.) The logos should never appear in any colors other than those shown on this page, without prior written consent from University Relations.

Do not flip the graphic

Spirit Mark

The WVSU Spirit Mark is the secondary identifier for the University's athletic programs and student organizations. The Spirit Mark can be used interchangeably, or in combination with, the Yellow Jacket logo, as pictured below.

Because of the informal nature of the WVSU Spirit Mark, it is not intended to represent the various academic, research, or outreach areas within the University. It can be used, however, as a decorative or retail product image on items such as sweatshirts and other apparel, coffee mugs, folders etc.

Editorial Guidelines

University Relations follows the Associated Press (AP) style in its news releases and publications.

Following are some of the most relevant AP style guidelines that pertain to WVSU. For additional AP style guidelines, visit www.apstylebook.com, or <http://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/resource/735/02/>.

Academic Degrees

Do not capitalize academic degrees when they are spelled out. Spell out and lowercase: bachelor's degree, master's degree, or doctorate degree. (The term doctoral degree or doctorate is preferred.) Each of these terms requires an apostrophe before the "s."

Academic units

Academic units at West Virginia State University are colleges, referred to as the:

- College of Arts & Humanities
- College of Business & Social Sciences
- College of Natural Science & Mathematics
- College of Professional Studies

The chief administrator of each college is the dean.

Addresses

For numbered addresses, always use figures. Abbreviate Ave., Blvd., and St. and directional cues when used with a numbered address. Always spell out other words such as alley, drive and road. If the street name or directional cue is used without a numbered address, it should be capitalized and spelled out. If a street name is a number, spell out First through Ninth and use figures for 10th and higher. Here are some examples of correctly formatted addresses: 101 N. Grant St., Northwestern Avenue, South Ninth Street, 102 S. 10th St., 605 Woodside Drive.

Ages

Always use numbers.

Alma Mater

Use lowercase when referring to a school that one attended. Capitalize when referring to the song, and place in quotes – "Alma Mater." For example: WVSU is Joe Smith's alma mater; At the conclusion of commencement the audience is asked to stand and sing the "Alma Mater."

Alumni, alumna, alumnus, alumnae, alum

Alumna refers to a woman, alumnus refers to a man. Alumnae refers to women only, alumni refers to women and men. Alum is a casual term referring to either male or female.

A capital is a city or town that is the official seat of government. When used in a financial sense, capital describes money, equipment or property used in a business. A Capitol is a building occupied by the legislature. Capitalize references to the State Capitol building in Charleston, W.Va., or the Capitol building in Washington, D.C., where the U.S. Congress holds its sessions.

In AP style, an event cannot be described as “annual” until it has been held for two successive years. Do not use the term “first annual.” Instead say the sponsors plan to hold the event annually.

West Virginia State University is a Historically Black College or University (HBCU).

Hyphen

Most two-word compound adjectives are hyphenated when placed before the noun. See examples below.

The committee followed the established decision-making process.

She is a full-time student.

He lives in on-campus housing.

Compound adjectives of three or more words are hyphenated when placed before the noun.

e.g. It was strictly a spur-of-the-moment decision.

He is a high-spirited youngster.

Use hyphens with nouns that represent different and equally important functions when they form a single expression. See examples below.

Majors and minors

Names of majors, minors, concentrations and programs are in lower case, unless the major or minor is the name of a language such as English or Spanish.

Numbers

In general, spell out numbers below 10 and use figures for 10 and above.

When larger numbers must be spelled out, use a hyphen to connect a word ending in y to another word. Example, twenty-one, thirty-one, etc.

Quotation Marks

The period and the comma always go within the quotation marks. The dash, the semicolon, the question mark and the exclamation point go within the quotation marks when they apply to the quoted matter only.

Capitalize names of races (African-American, Caucasian, Latina/o, Asian, Native American), but do not capitalize “black” or “white” when referring to race. According to AP style, the term “African-American” is hyphenated.

Correct: We will be in Room 113.
