

WEST VIRGINIA STATE UNIVERSITY

Instructor of Computer Science College of Natural Sciences and Mathematics

West Virginia State University

West Virginia State University (WVSU) is a public-land grant institution, which was founded in 1891 as a Historically Black College and University (HBCU), and has evolved into a fully accessible, diverse, and multi-generational institution serving approximately 3,500 students. The University is a community of students, staff, and faculty committed to innovative teaching and learning, research and service that offers 23 undergraduate and seven graduate degrees through its four colleges, and competes in athletics at the NCAA Division II level in five men's sports and six women's sports. WVSU is located in Institute, WV, a suburb of Charleston, the largest city and the capital of West Virginia. With more than 300,000 people living in the metropolitan area, it is an active, exciting and engaging community, boasting cultural and historical events, music, festivals and entertainment.

Position Description

The Department of Mathematics, Engineering, and Computer Science at West Virginia State University invites applications for a full-time (non-tenure-track) Instructor of Computer Science position starting Fall 2024. This position is renewable annually depending on teaching performance and institutional need. We are seeking candidates who have a passion for teaching and student success. The Department offers Bachelor of Science degrees in Mathematics, Engineering, and Computer Science and a Master of Science degree in Computer Science. We boast our newly established state-of-the-art Cybersecurity Innovation Center and vibrant partnerships with various technology companies and agencies including IBM and NASA. The successful candidate will have opportunities to engage in various (grants and summer) activities.

Responsibilities for the Position

Responsibilities include teaching elementary computer science courses and participation in department and university committees. The normal teaching load is 15 credit hours per semester. The ability to teach elementary mathematics classes is a plus.

Requirements for the Position

A Master's degree in Computer Science or a related field from an accredited college or university is required. The successful candidate is expected to have some teaching experience at secondary or post-secondary levels. The successful candidate will need to complete a background check.

Salary Statement

Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

To Apply

This position will remain open until filled. However, priority consideration will be given to applicants who submit a complete application package, including a resume, cover letter, copies of academic transcripts (originals required upon acceptance of job offer), and contact information (names, email addresses, or phone numbers) for three professional references by February 16, 2024. Please ensure that all requested information is submitted to have your application considered.
